

HELP ME HEAL AND GET BACK TO THE LIFE I LOVE

My name is Kayleigh Espinosa. On October 25, 2026, what started as a family day in Tucson turned into an unforgettable accident.

Sunday had become my favorite day. It was my day off, my day to ride my new Harley-Davidson, and spend time with Mi Familia. My Mom, Tia, my babe and my baby cousin Santi were following behind me when the accident happened. They witnessed the whole thing!Which was especially bit traumatic for my Mom.

My dad and younger brother both passed away in separate motorcycle accidents, three years apart. Riding became more than a hobby to me. It was a way to feel connected to them and keep their spirits alive. After my own accident, I am incredibly grateful to still be here.

I suffered multiple fractures, including a serious right leg injury requiring surgery with a rod and screws, a fractured left foot, and a fractured left arm. After five days in the hospital, I am now beginning a long recovery, relying on my beautiful babe, Drucilla, to help me get around in a wheelchair and with my walker.

I’ve always tried to bring good energy wherever I go. I love my family, my friends, and spreading love and positivity. I am determined not to let this experience take that away from me.

I’ve worked in sales for over 12 years and currently work for Cellular Sales, a Verizon authorized retailer. It’s honestly the best company I’ve ever worked for, and I take pride in what I do!

Funds raised through HelpVy will help with medical, everyday living costs, and the financial challenges of being unable to work while I heal.

I am taking things one day at a time, JUST FOR TODAY, continuing to heal and rebuild my strength so I can eventually return to the life I love.

If you are able to donate or share my story, my family and I would be incredibly grateful. Every bit of support means more than words can express.

Thank you for being part of my journey back on my feet.

With love and gratitude,

Kayleigh Espinosa
